WHAT'S COMING OFF

... was a question that popped in mind Tuesday when I spied a newspaper on the desk of Lillian Porter at the Hondo Chamber of Commerce.

The name hit me like a rock: "The Medina Gazette". Oh, gosh, I thought, a newspaper I didn't know about around here.

Then I looked at the top, top story and it screamed: "There's a Medina County, Texas, Too!" And on the two top right columns was a Hondo, Texas sign.

Perhaps I was a little impolite when I grabbed the paper to read the story. Sorry about that Lillian, but I found out that a resident of Medina County, Ohio (and Medina City) checked the records and found that these two counties are the only Medina counties in the country.

So he wrote the Hondo Chamber of Commerce requesting information on the county and then penned an article which the newspaper played up big. He gave facts on the Museum, the founding of the county, the county sheriff, the city.

Sue Whitmeyer, who wrote the article for the newspaper, penned a note thanking Hondo CofC for the information and said that Sheriff Stuart of Medina County, Ohio sends his regards to Sheriff Charles J. Hitzfelder whom the story said has been sheriff here for 19 years.

ANOTHER

... note came to the Hondo CofC this week written on a Hondo postcard. It came from Moses Lake, Washington and requesting some Texas maps. It ended with these words: "We certainly enjoyed the visit from your nice representative who left us some Hondo cards."

Patricia, Terri and Debbie will have to take credit for that representation. They visited the CofC there and chatted for quite a while, and, of course, left some cards.

Some plants grow!

The Century plant shown in this picture was on Adolph Hutzler's place between Hondo and Devine. The plant is over 30 feet tall and is in full bloom, which it supposedly does every 100 years. Hutzler set out this plant some three years ago and it was only about 3-4 feet tall at that time. Hutzler can be seen standing at the base of the plant.

Murder charges filed against county man

A Devine man, 22-year-old Ramon S. Davila, is in Medina County Jail charged with murder with malice in connection with the weekend death of a 69-year-old Natalia man.

The badly beaten body of Ermeldino Muniz was discovered Sunday floating in a canal about six miles north of Devine. Deputy Sheriff Paige Boone and Reserve Deputy Gary Savage found the badly beaten body shortly after midnight Sunday.

Authorities said nearly $100 in cash was missing from the man's billfold.

Medina County Sheriff Charles J. Hitzfelder and Chief Deputy Floyd Williams, with assistance from Devine Police Chief Ray Macias and Constable Harry Rabbe, conducted the day-long investigation into the brutal death of Muniz.

According to the arrest report, Davila had been with the victim at a tavern Saturday night and after the two left there, Deputies

El Informador is new voice in city

Last week the first issue of El Informador hit the streets of Hondo to serve as the voice of the area Mexican-American residents.

Purpose of the twice monthly newspaper was described in the initial issue as:

"In an effort to better inform the Mexican-American people in Hondo and in Medina County, we, the staff of El Informador have concentrated our energy toward establishing a newspaper that will be relative to the needs and interests of the Mexican-American.

"El Informador will be printed twice monthly and every effort will be made to carry the news that is of special interest to the Mexican-American community.

"We seek only the truth, we will attempt to reveal to our people the dark and vicious deeds of injustice and repression that are used against them by the gringo.

"There is a revolution taking place among the Chicanos. This revolution is having a profound effect on the thoughts and attitudes of the Mexican-American. He is no longer accepting the high-handed policies of the Anglo society nor the attitude of white supremacy. He is attempting to recover his lost heritage and to attain better social, economic and political equality.

"It is our belief that in order for our people to attain these goals they must be well informed of activities that directly and indirectly affect their lives.

"A lot of feelings will be hurt by the truth that we

Verbal fireworks erupted at the Tuesday night Council meeting when a group of Mexican-American residents appeared before the Council to demand the firing of City Patrolman Pete Pruneda.

The request was denied by the Council.

Their demands stemmed from an incident which occurred Saturday night when Pruneda arrested Chavelle Lopez on the charges of disorderly conduct and assaulting a police officer. Then when Lopez was taken to the County Jail Pruneda was allegedly attacked by the young man's mother, being hit in the mouth and bitten on the arm.

Pruneda's report sheet describes the entire incident in this manner:

"On July 8, 1972 at approximately 11:30 p.m., I, Patrolman Pete Pruneda, was on routine patrol traveling west on the 12 hundred block

Commissioners take look at food program

Hondo's commodity distribution program at the airbase property was visited by the Medina County Commissioners Court on Monday morning. The commissioners and County Judge Jerome Decker were on an observation tour of the Hondo facility.

Present to watch the staple food packages be distributed quickly and efficiently, with no waiting in line for recipients, were Commissioners Ira Barron, Hilmer Mangold, Fred Bader and Charles Langfeld and Judge Decker.

The program provides 1050 individuals in the County with much-needed supplementary staples at no cost to them, so long as they fulfill certain need criteria.

Packages are distributed 20 days a month to avoid waiting line. Joe L. Nixon serves as Commodity Supervisor, Mrs. Gaye Bippert, Home Demonstration Agent; Aurora Padilla, Home Demonstration Aide; and Mrs. Chester Walch, clerk.

Mrs. Padilla was taken on through the Alamo Area Council of Governments from a previous similar position in Oregon in February of this year. She brings new ideas for preparing the commodity foods into the homes of the needy. Several days a week, she goes into the neighborhoods and barrios to prepare meals for welfare families, so that they can learn new and better methods of preparing the foods. Her program is active among 27 Hondo families, as well as 8 more in Devine.

Mrs. Bippert also is involved in nutrition education and provides samples of commodity recipes for enrollees to taste as they receive their portions at the center. Each month a different food is featured. The education program has been helpful in introducing such nutritious but previously unknown foods as grits and dry split peas into the daily diets of Medina County families.

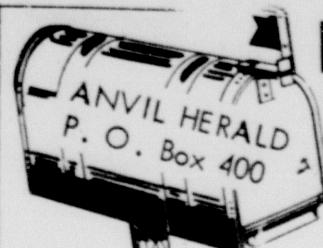

The commodity foods are taken from surplus food supplies which the government buys and distributes free of cost.

To lead Museum efforts

New officers to head Medina County Museum activities for the coming year were elected Monday night at a membership meeting. Taking the reins of president from John Wentz, second from right, who has headed the organization for two years, is Frank Graff, center. Other officers are Douglas Bohmfalk, vice president; Mrs. Oswald Sauer, secretary; and Mrs. Sally Brucks, treasurer.

Letters from the mailbox

Burns K. Lawrence,

We are here to remind you that although the jurors you ferociously attacked in your editorial on Ma. Angela Davis are not within answering bounds, we are. You sarcastically insinuated that the jurors were unintelligent and you furthermore questioned the their patriotism. Because these people did not pre-judge Ma. Davis she was able to receive a fair trial. And as for your comment on taxes I would like to know when you became a California resident.

Rep. John Poerner of Hondo provides a summary of important legislative action.

MEAT INSPECTION
Representative E. L. Short of Tahoka presented an amendment in the House to remove the State Meat Inspector Program. I am convinced that Representative Short made this move to show our disgust with the Federal Government and their involvement over the item that is most important to all of us. I personally think it is a bad amendment as I would prefer to have State Inspectors rather than Federal Inspectors. The Conference Committee removed his amendment and the State will continue to provide the inspectors for another year.

BUSING

The anti-busing amendment followed on the heels of the people of this State being opposed to this issue by a 3 to 1 margin. The Resolution passed by the House was not an anti-integration resolution, as some had claimed, but simply states the following:

"No student shall be assigned to nor compelled to attend any particular public school on account of race, religion, color or national origin."

LAND USE STUDY

The House also adopted a Land Use Study Amendment that will appropriate $150,000 to inventory all the land of Texas as to indicate to us its availability for development. This is long been needed and the study will be conducted by the Bureau of Economic Geology at the University of Texas at Austin.

PREDATORY

ANIMAL CONTROL
The cities attempted to reduce the Predatory Animal Control funds by $200,000 which would have reduced their funds from $512,850. The city representatives wanted more money for rodent control as rats appear to be increasing in Houston and Dallas.

DAYLIGHT SAVINGS TIME

The Legislature was unable to review the Trailer Brake Law or the issue of Daylight Savings Time because the Governor refused to include these items in his call. He did not feel that either item was of statewide emergency and he has left these items for the next administration.

HOW DOES IT OPERATE?

Families who sign up and are eligible buy a regular number of food stamps each month. Applying for stamps is voluntary, and the family can withdraw at any time.

With each purchase of stamps, an added number of food stamps ("bonus stamps") will be given to the family free.

For example: A family of four with $200 monthly net income would pay $53 but would receive $108 worth of coupons.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE?

Any food eaten by people, except most imported foods, can be bought. Coupons cannot be used to buy liquor, tobacco, or nonfood items such as soap, pet foods, or vitamins, nor can they be exchanged for cash.

The stores then redeem the stamps at local banks and receive the full amount of money for them.

Households Receiving Welfare

Most families receiving public assistance payments are automatically eligible if they prepare their own meals and live in a county which has a food stamp program.

Households Not Receiving Welfare

Other families with no one, or only part of the household receiving welfare, may get food stamps if:

The household does not have over a certain amount of money on hand or in the bank, or in stocks, bonds, etc.

The total adjusted net household income does not exceed the amounts set by U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The household prepares its own food. (Individuals or families in hospitals, nursing homes, boarding houses, or who eat most of their meals in restaurants are not eligible.)

HOW TO APPLY FOR FOOD STAMPS

The head of the family applies at the nearest branch of the welfare department in the food stamp county in which he lives.

SOME TYPICAL QUESTIONS

Can I get food stamps and surplus commodities (donated foods)?

No. Only one of these two programs can be operating in the county.

Can I buy only as many stamps as I think I can afford?

Yes, but the stamps must be purchased in quarterly increments (if you qualify for $108 a month in stamps, you may purchase the entire amount, three-quarters ($81), one-half ($54), or one-quarter ($27).)

Can I buy more often than once a month?

In some cases you can purchase twice a month.

Am I required to report changes in income and/or other things?

Yes. The amount of stamps you buy depends on the size of household and adjusted net income. So any changes in number of persons in the household, all income, allowable deductions, available assets, address changes, etc., must be reported promptly.

Will this affect my welfare grant or eligibility for aid?

No. The value of the free stamps is not counted as income in any way, and you can withdraw from the program any time without affecting your grant or eligibility.

Vacation or new car?

You can afford both at your Ford Dealer's.

not going to take him. "I then grabbed Lopez's arm and told him to come. At this time he swung underneath my hold on his arm and struck me on the arm, jarring me loose from him. As he started to run, I jumped at him to apprehend him and struck him on the head with the flashlight. Again he evaded me and started to run. I chased him approximately 10 yards and tackled him on the lawn behind the house at 710 17th St. When we fell to the ground, Lopez was kicking and wrestling trying to get away. At this time Patrolman Barrientes came to assist me and we handcuffed Lopez and brought him to the Medina County Sheriff's office.

"David Martinez was also brought in the other car by Patrolman Guajardo and Patrolman Barrientes. When we arrived at the sheriff's office there was a large crowd gathered outside of the office. We took both subjects inside the office and then I came back to the patrol car to get the ticket book, and as I was walking up the stairs a woman came out of the sheriff's office and hollered something at me and swung and struck me on the left side of the face. I then grabbed her by the arm and told her that she was under arrest for assault on a police officer.

"As I opened the door to the Sheriff's office, she bit my left forearm. This woman was later identified as Mrs. T. A. Lopez. Chevallie Lopez was taken to the Medina Memorial Hospital by me, Patrolman Pruneda. He was treated for a cut on his head received while his arrest was trying to be executed.

"David Martinez was taken before Judge Herring for traffic violations. Chevallie Lopez was booked for disorderly conduct and assault on a police officer and Mrs. T. A. Lopez was also booked for assault on a police officer. All subjects were released on bond to appear Monday."

However, the group Tuesday night, led by Maria Lopez the sister of the young man who was charged, disagreed strongly with the account given in Pruneda's report and that given by Police Chief Jerry Williamson.

Miss Lopez said: "Pruneda saw my brother and two of his friends driving down 18th Street and followed them. When they stopped at my grandfather's house, Pruneda told my brother to come with him, he was under arrest. But he would not tell him what he was being arrested for. So my brother ran around the yard and Pruneda took after him with his flashlight and hit him on the head making a cut which required several (six) stitches."

"What did your brother do for Pruneda to be after him?" Councilman Hilmer Mueller asked.

"Nothing," she replied. "Then why did he run?" the councilman asked.

"Because he didn't want to be arrested," she answered. "And why should he be arrested when he did nothing--just because he is a Mexican?"

Antonio Garcia III then presented the Council with his reasons why "the Chicanos run." He quoted figures and facts from the Civil Rights Commission report which in essence says the Chicanos are mistreated and threatened by policemen all over the country and especially in the Southwest.

Miss Lopez then referred to a Tuesday morning happening at the Courthouse and accused Chief Williamson of trying to prevent her from printing the paper she edits, El Informador.

"He (Williamson) hinted that if we would not print the paper the charges would be dropped," she said.

Chief Williamson then repeated the events of Tuesday morning in the Courthouse and to which the publisher of this paper was a witness, and a part of.

The Lopez attorney requested a conference of himself, T. A. Lopez, Mrs. Lopez, and Chevallie Lopez, County Attorney Frank Vance and Patrolman Pruneda. Williamson accompanied Pruneda.

"In that conference, where the attorney requested that Judge Decker not be present, we were asked if there was any way we could drop the charges," Williamson said.

"We agreed that under certain conditions, specifically Mr. Lopez coming before the City Council and apologizing for the actions of his wife, which he admitted at that time were wrong, the charges against her would be dropped. But we also agreed the charges against Chevallie Lopez would be held and if he got in trouble again would be reopened."

Williamson continued: "Then they wanted to know if it could be kept out of the newspaper. Mr. Lawrence was out in the hall at that time with Judge Decker and I asked him if this could be done. He refused at first, then said if this action on his part would help ease tensions he would agree to it. But he in turn asked that the incident not be reported in the El Informador. He felt it only fair to ask this since they were asking that he not print the story."

"This was agreed to Tuesday morning, but apparently that agreement is no longer valid according to Mr. Lopez."

Tommy Santos spoke to say that "according to hear-say Pruneda has a suit filed against him in Uvalde based on violation of Civil Rights. I would think that the City Council would have the police chief screen applicants more carefully. There are lots of men in Hondo who could be hired as policemen, why does the chief have to go out of town to hire someone?"

Lupe Barrientes, who arrived at the meeting late, asked for the floor and then echoed a previous request by saying:

"I am representing the G. L. Forum and other people and have one question. And we demand an answer to-night. We demand to know if the City Council, in light of the incident which prompted all of this, is going to fire Patrolman Pruneda tonight?"

Mayor George Brucks answered: "The Council is not going to fire Patrolman Pruneda. We feel Chief Williamson has investigated the incident, and we'll leave it up to him to determine when action needs to be taken."

Several persons demanded that Pruneda give his side, but City Attorney Hugh Meyer pointed out that this was not a trial and he did not feel it necessary for the patrolman to speak. "However," he said, "if you feel his actions were completely wrong and you want to file a formal complaint then go ahead, preferably in writing."

Barrientes discussed certain areas of relations and conditions he felt existed. "We are all Americans," he said, "but all you can hear is Anglo, Mexican-American, white, brown, black. Raza Unida means race united, but around here the Anglos are the only ones united."

Mayor Brucks commented to Lupe Barrientes that he has probably seen more changes in Hondo in the past four years than most people had seen in a lifetime. "And this is good," he said. "We might not meet the specific demands made at each Council meeting, but rest assured that each Councilman is thinking and hears you and is trying to help solve the problems."

Garcia then spoke up and asked: "What has the City Council done for us?"

There was no real answer given.

Garcia then demanded to know "why is it you don't want any of us sitting in those chairs (Council)?"

After a few more words the group left the council room and gathered outside, where they held up signs saying: "Fire Pruneda." Then they got in their cars and drove around the City Hall blowing their horns for awhile before breaking up.

better time; you are safer on them; and by keeping traffic flowing they cause less pollution of the environment.

However, I would say the trucking industry has a long way to go toward eliminating pollution by trucks. Many of them continue to belch black, acrid smoke from their exhausts.

Along these lines a booklet by the Highway Users Association states: "The 42,500 mile Interstate Highway System will save motorists $107 billion by 1979, $30 billion more than the estimated cost of the System, through improved travel times and lower operating costs.

"Travel time between cities have decreased an average of 10 percent as a result of Interstate highways, with some urban corridors showing time savings of 50 percent or more.

"Use taxes, collected by the Federal Government go into a special fund--the Highway Trust Fund--to assure needed highway improvements. Motor fuel, tire, heavy truck and bus, and other taxes are paid by highway users in proportion to their use of the highways."

Over the years, State, city and county governments have spent $3 for each federal dollar spent on highways and the people are "voting for highways" when they vote state gasoline taxes.

Yet, in Washington, there are those who propose to transfer funds from the Highway Trust Fund for other purposes such as mass transit and environmental projects.

I feel they should leave the fund alone. Use it to build more and better highways. By 1990, it is estimated more than 162 million motor vehicles will be registered in the U.S., a 44.6 percent increase over the present total of 112 million. There will be a greater need for improved highways built from this fund--if we do not allow it to be "robbed".

So in your next letter to your Congressman and Senators (you do write every so often just to let them know who pays their salary, don't you) urge them to resist this pressure from the "special interest" promoters and to tell them to submit their plans directly to Congress for an appropriation, if needed--AND LEAVE THE HIGHWAY TRUST FUND to achieve its designed purposes--to build safe highways for the millions of Americans who drive over them each day.

LEGALIZE MARIJUANA - WHY?

ALTERNATIVES TO LEGALIZATION

My entire series of articles has been against the consideration of marijuana legalization. Readers might conclude that this reasoning comes from a closed mind. My answer to this would be . . . if a parent who insists that his children refrain from playing in the street has a closed mind . . . if our laws prohibiting driving a motor vehicle while drinking indicates a closed mind . . . if wishing to see American moral fiber built rather than downgraded is closed-mindedness . . . then, yes I do have a closed mind.

What are the alternatives to legalization? More lenient laws? Leave the laws as they now stand and "look the other way"? Perhaps we should ignore the whole issue and say, "let the kids do their own thing", as we have on so many other issues where our children have become so insistent on doing certain things we finally became exhausted and let them have their way?

The need for national standardizing of marijuana control laws is very evident. Legal variances from state to state only tend to increase travel by users, pushers and distributors. Standardization would probably build a united front for handling the whole problem.

While many school systems try to educate students on drug abuse, many go at it haphazardly. Compulsory drug abuse education in the schools would no doubt help, while maintaining strong legal control.

Most adults today have no desire to see youngsters languishing in jail cells on first offense marijuana convictions. Our present laws are being "bent" so that this does not usually happen now, so this is not really the issue. The real issue, forced on us by those who either use marijuana or have lost the energy to resist those who would promote it, is: does an individual have the right to use a drug which has the strong potential for destroying his initiative, his ideals, and what society considers "normal" life style . . . yes, perhaps even lead to losing his life?

In brief, does an individual have the right to destroy that which is his?

Perhaps we all destroy our lives in one way or another over the years, without harming those around us in the doing. But, the use of marijuana DOES involve those around us, it DOES effect the lives of family, friends and even casual acquaintances. Therefore, isn't it nonsense to say that this is an individual matter to decide? Legalization would make it just that, overlooking all further consequences.

So, obviously the alternatives to legalizing marijuana are many and varied. I do not feel we should allow ourselves to be sold the "do your own thing" philosophy through legalization. We have gone that route on too many issues in America, and any newspaper will show what it has caused in our country.

If and when the matter of legalizing marijuana comes to a vote, I strongly urge you to vote it down overwhelmingly! In the meantime, fight the trend toward leniency on marijuana with every conversation, at every group gathering . . . in every way you can . . . WITH FACTS! To know this issue and what it really means will make you a crusader AGAINST marijuana and all dangerous drug abuse!

I want to thank everyone in the community for being with me through this series of articles. I hope it has given each and every one food for serious thought!

Walker honored as outstanding soldier

NORTH FORT HOOD--
Staff Sergeant Donnie Walker of Bandera has been named "Outstanding Soldier of the Year" for San Antonio's 36th Infantry Brigade, Texas Army National Guard.

A board of senior noncommissioned officers picked the 26-year old sergeant from among 4,000 possible candidates.

Announcement of the award was made recently during the 36th Brigade's annual training at North Fort Hood, Texas.

Sergeant Walker was singled out for the award because of his outstanding leadership qualities, service, military bearing, and job efficiency.

Sergeant Walker is a desk sergeant and squad leader in Hondo's Military Police Platoon.

A Highway Patrolman in civilian life and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Walker of Boerne, Sgt. Walker is a five-year veteran of the Texas National Guard.

"I believe in the National Guard's mission," said Sgt. Walker. "There's a period of time immediately following every major disaster where the public is virtually helpless. The National Guard fills that gap."

Sgt. Walker said he would encourage high school graduates to consider the National Guard.

"The National Guard is an excellent part time job for students attending college," he said. "And you can usually find a National Guard unit that's close to home and that's related to your interests or particular field."

Sgt. Walker has devoted a major portion of his career to public service.

When asked how he felt about winning the Outstanding Soldier Award, Walker said he was "surprised and proud".

Sgt. Walker, his wife, Karen, and their daughter, Kris, live in Bandera.

COLLEGE STATION--Pat Kelvin Eaves, nine-year member of the Medina County 4-H Club, has been named recipient of a four-year C. J. Davidson Scholarship totaling $2,800, according to the state 4-H office at Texas A&M University.

The scholarship is one of several awarded through the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation for top 4-H Club members.

Pat is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer E. Eaves of Natalia. He plans to attend Texas A&M University.

During his 4-H career, Pat has won ribbons for fryers at stock shows for six years. He has won a total of 13 blue ribbons in county and district competition plus one first-place award at the state level.

As an active 4-H Club leader, Pat has served as council delegate two years; secretary-treasurer, two years; reporter, one year; and county chairman, three years. He also started and participated in a newspaper recycling program in his local club. He has presented numerous demonstrations throughout the county.

The graduate of Natalia High School was vice-president of his sophomore class, president of his senior class and president of the National Honor Society. He was named All-District two years in football and was elected to the basketball second All-District team. He has won both first and second places in speaking contests and a medal for solo in musical competition.
